

HAZARDOUS MATT

A meteor flying through space enters the Earth's atmosphere and impacts the ground

All trees and life on the surface are scorched

and the dinosaurs are destroyed

The life forms melt into a putrid sludge

That sinks into the cracks of the Earth and becomes deposits of oil which is pumped out by drills and enters our modern world

Oil workers get the flow under control

They celebrate and continue their work

Ghostly figures arise from the oil

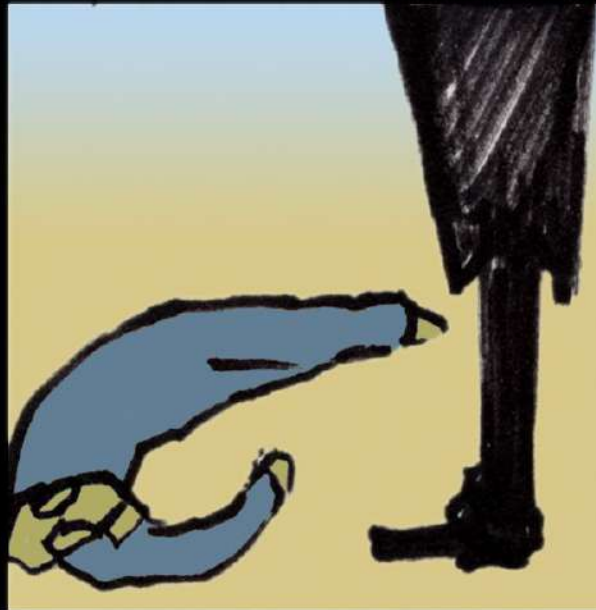

Dinosaur Ghosts!

Dinosaur ghosts attack!

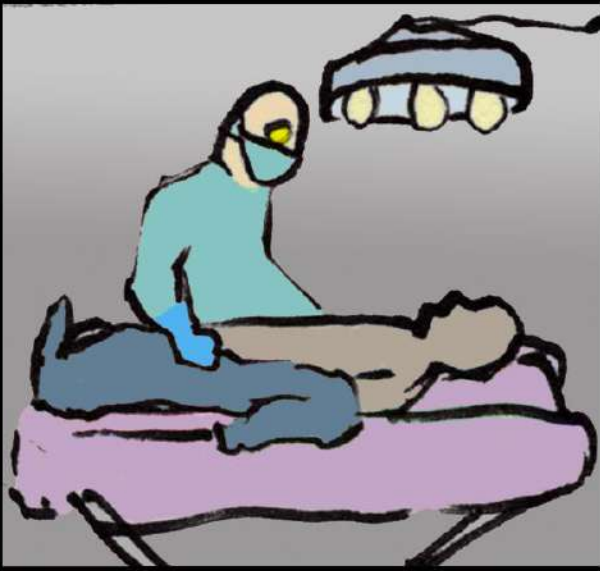

with telekinetic fury!

Our heroes come to investigate and take the victim to their lab to inspect the body which is possessed by dino madness!

Dino Zombie!

Which must be dealt with swiftly

but then it's back to that poltergeist nonsense so they build it a body and fill a room with charges to force the ghost inside where electromagnets hold it in place so it can be controlled but alarms signal more trouble somewhere out at sea so they race to the location where the meteor rises from the water and floats into the air like an ominous cloud which attacks them with lasers so they fire back and damage its surface so they can collect a sample that's as old as the universe and circulates energy so it can come alive

as Meteor Monsters!

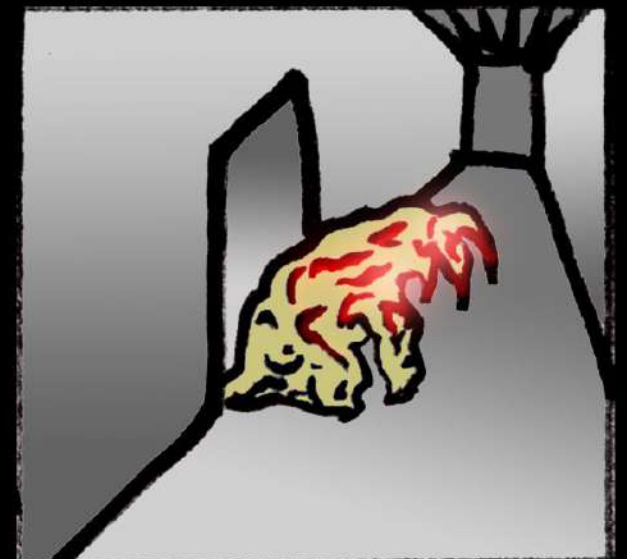

that feed on Destruction!

the Dino Ghost senses its natural enemy

Meteor Monster escapes and roams the headquarters

Dinosaur Ghost escapes and faces its foe

our heroes are saved!

so they build another body with decked out parts

Weaponized Dinosaur Ghost!
